

Title of Motion Picture

The Sport of Kings ~~Pathe~~

Produced and Manufactured by
PATHE EXCHANGE, Inc.
NEW YORK, N. Y.

Copyrighted

©CLM 2626

JUL 31 1924

©GIM 2626

THE SPORT OF KINGS

In this great wide country where fresh air is still tax exempt. Great crowds rush from everywhere when they know there is to be a great game known as the national pastime. In our story all the animals are going. The puppy dog band is marching proudly along.

The cat and mice local teams choose up sides and then the big game is on. According to the usual custom the pitcher and the catcher can't agree on their signals so there is a conference. Then the batter swings too hard and knocks the catcher cold. A very fast ball is slowed up by the ultra rapid cartoon camera and shows that the catcher, catches it right in front of the bat. Then there is the "Big Babe" mouse the champion hitter, he sends one away out over the left field brings about six runs and then he returns to the club house amid wild cheers.

The left fielder riding wildly on horseback succeeds in catching it. He telephones in that the man is out. They tell him that the game is over and that they have all gone home. The left fielder does a flop on his left ear. The moral is: "Hards Knocks Keep You From Becoming Flabby".

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress